Acknowledgements

AAUW California branch college and university (c/u) chairs across the state advanced the educational opportunities for women and girls to gain self-confidence and to grow as leaders on campus. Members and c/u chairs took exciting ideas and projects from their past experiences off the shelf and applied these ideas as events on campus utilizing the AAUW Programs In A Box (PIAB) best practices available on the national Website.

I thank the hundreds of AAUW California members, c/u chairs and c/u representatives for sharing their successful events and their challenges with me during the past two years. A special thank you to Jo Harberson for her “search engine” ability to read 80 to 100 branch newsletters monthly and report to me the c/u activities by branches.

National Conference for College Women Student Leaders (NCCWSL)

1000 students in June 2015 honed leadership skills for their work on campus and in their communities at this exciting and inspirational Conference. A long-standing three-day annual event, NCCWSL continues to build momentum and empower college women students. Get involved in the Conference and support these students by raising awareness of the value of the Conference to women students. See and hear how participants' lives are changed when you click on NCCWSL Website.

49 of the 1000 NCCWSL students attending the 2015 Conference were from colleges and universities in California.

69 of the 900 NCCWSL students attending the 2014 Conference were from colleges and universities in California. UC Berkeley sent 10 students, UC Santa Barbara 1, Chabot College 2, Mount St. Mary's College 5, CSU Channel Islands 1, CSU Chico 1, CSU Northridge 3, CSU Sacramento 6, CSU San Bernardino 4, CSU Stanislaus 1, San Diego State University 1, California Polytechnic State University 1, USC 1, Mt. 44 of the 700 NCCWSL students attending the 2013 Conference were from colleges and universities in California.

AAUW C/U partner representatives and faculty have an opportunity to present a workshop at NCCWSL. The Graduate School Fair at the Conference offers seniors an opportunity to seek out graduate school possibilities at more than 50 graduate schools.

Invite a NCCWSL student/s to speak at one of your branch meetings. Support students to NCCWSL by raising funds from a fashion show, offering Princeton Review free workshops and practice exams or creating a future leaders walk-a-thon fundraiser in the community or on campus to send a student to NCCWSL.

Campus Action Projects (CAP)

With the help of CAP grants, student leaders, faculty, and administrators design and implement effective campus programs that expand educational opportunities, promote leadership, and improve academic and career outcomes. Each year AAUW chooses a mission-based topic for the CAP projects. The focus of the 2012-2013 CAP grants was Graduating to a Pay Gap: The Earnings of Men and Women One Year after College Graduation. The focus of the 2013-2014 CAP grants was Women in Community College: Access to Success. The focus of the 2014-2015 CAP grants was College Students Fight Gender Stereotypes. Ten CAP grants were awarded in 2015-2016.

Application deadline is mid-October. One year projects are funded from $2000-$7000 and two year projects from $5000-$10,000. These projects are sponsored by Pantene.

Benefits of CAP grants to students and campus:

Collaborate with a campus-based student leadership development program

Create or strengthen ties with a local college or university

Recruit new student members

Raise funds

The team at the Napa Valley College will address the biases toward women and girls studying science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). The team wants to bust the myths that women are not good at math, that men are better suited to be engineers, and that young women are out of place in a profession that is usually depicted as the domain of older, white men. The CAP team of 6 students wants to encourage girls and women in STEM by connecting 7-9th graders in the Napa Valley Unified School District with STEM professionals at Napa Valley College.

A four-week visual installation is being created by 9 students at Sierra College to address gender misconceptions. The exhibit will rotate among the Rocklin and Nevada County campuses. The Gender Stereotype Alphabet will have a brief definition of the word that begins with each letter of the alphabet and an action that students can take to fight gender bias.

National Student Advisory Council (SAC)

Ten SAC students from October through June who attend college/university partner campuses across the United States are chosen annually to serve as AAUW ambassadors and provide AAUW staff with essential firsthand accounts of campus student needs and ideas for combating sex discrimination in higher education and the workplace, promote AAUW and its programs on their campus, and serve as student leaders at the annual National Conference for College Women Student Leaders (NCCWSL) held on the campus of the University of Maryland.

Serving on the SAC provides students with many opportunities to represent the voices and experiences of college students, develop as leaders, network, and gain valuable resume-building experience.

Invite Samantha, Anita, Junei, Shannon or Jessica to speak at a branch event.

Shannon Cholakian, CSU Long Beach SAC student 2014-2015, started her university's first Queer Identity Advocacy Scholarship for students who identify within the LGBT spectrum and serves on her school's President's Commission on the Status of Women.

Jessica Ou, UC Berkeley SAC student, serves as an executive council member of the International Youth Council, founded by the U.N. Youth Assembly. She served as a peer educator for her school's Gender Equality and Resource Center and is a campus safety coordinator on the student government's sexual assault task force.

Samantha Abril, Claremont McKenna College SAC student in 2011-2012, reactivated Claremont McKenna's Women's Forum and as president of the Forum spearheaded the planning of events that focused on gender climate and ending gender discrimination on campus. She participated as a speaker at the AAUW California state convention college/university workshop in 2012.

Anita Botello-Santoyo, UC Berkeley SAC student in 2010-2011, worked as a crew member to organize the production of The Vagina Monologues on campus. She served as president of the AAUW student organization on the campus of Mt. San Jacinto College and was honored as Mentor of the Year. She participated as a speaker at the AAUW California state convention college/university workshop in 2012.

Elect Her: Campus Women Win

The Elect Her: Campus Women Win is a one-day, 4-5 hour training on an AAUW college/university partner campus that encourages and trains college women to run for student government and future political office. A national collaboration between AAUW and Running Start, the Elect Her: Campus Women Win training workshop recognizes the need to expand the pipeline to women running for office and to diminish the long-standing political leadership gender gap. Getting women engaged in politics and elected to office early in life is the key to strengthening and increasing women's representation in government. Election to campus student government is important to climb the leadership ladder.

Elect Her: Campus Women Win workshops were presented at 50 sites across the country in 2015. Mooneen Lecce Giving Circle in California has underwritten the Elect Her: Campus Women Win workshops in California and Washington states.

This year a record number of Elect Her alumnae have gone on to run for student government president. The majority of Elect Her candidates running for president won their races—16 on the 38 campus sites. One Elect Her: Campus Women Win alumni won her campaign on a California campus—Sierra College. Marisa Magallanes was elected president and student trustee of the Associated Students at Sierra College in Rocklin.

Start Smart

Start Smart workshops are a two-to-three hour salary and benefits negotiation session designed for undergrad and graduate women on campus. In 2008 Women Are Getting Even (WAGE) and AAUW joined forces to address the gender wage pay by teaching young women how to determine what employers are paying for the job she wants when she graduates and how to negotiate to be paid what she is worth doing that job. Start Smart is a nuts and bolts, real world workshop that teaches women about salary resources they can use at employment interviews. WAGE trains AAUW members and campus faculty/administrators as facilitators to present Start Smart workshops on campus. More than 1100 Start Smart facilitators have been trained across the country. More than 740 campuses have held Start Smart workshops since 2008 and presented Start Smart workshops to 20,000 college students. In California, the following campuses have held numerous Start Smart workshops since 2015.

AAUW LAF Campus Outreach Program Grants

AAUW offers Legal Advocacy Fund (LAF) Campus Outreach Program Grants to local institutes of higher learning to combat unfair pay, sexual harassment and assault, pregnancy discrimination, or Title IX violations. Few college students are prepared for these realities. The LAF Campus Outreach Program is a wonderful opportunity for AAUW branches to create relationships with local campuses to educate the students about these topics.

Branches and states can apply to receive $750 to host an AAUW LAF Campus Outreach Program at a local college or university. States and branches select the campus and choose the program's format and topic.

LAF Campus Outreach Program Grants in 2012-2015 were fortunate to fund beneficiaries in California through the Gloria Weston Fund.

University of Redlands and the Redlands Branch educated young women on campus about the wage gap in 2015. They decided to co-host a dinner on campus with Lilly Ledbetter, a trailblazer for equal pay and the namesake of the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act.

Student Organizations

AAUW student organizations were founded to give undergrad students the resources and support to engage with other student leaders and professional women in their fields of study on campus. Students have unique opportunities to make connections with peers and mentors who are interested in advancing equity issues for women. Students are given a platform to organize $tart $mart workshops and Elect Her: Campus Women Win seminars. Students learn how to negotiate a good salary and benefits and how to run for and win positions in student government and public office.

www.aauw.org/resource/forming-aauw-student-organizations/

All undergrad students at an AAUW C/U partner campus can join as a free e-student affiliate by registering online www.aauw.org/student-member-join-renew/

Current student organizations are on these California campuses:

California State University Long Beach
California State University Sacramento
Marymount California University
Napa Valley College
Sierra College
University of California Irvine

Some of the successful and fun activities and events planned by students and staff:

Register people to vote

Potluck socials

Museum tours

Back-to-school cookouts

Homeless shelter and safe house volunteers

Book drive volunteers at Rotary Club

Elect Her: Campus Women Win seminars

Campaign for elected student government

$tart $mart salary negotiation and benefits workshops

Business session with elected officers and agenda

Fundraise from babysitting and childcare and gardening

Funds shared to pay expenses to attend AAUW state convention

Funds help students attend NCCWSL conference at University of Maryland

The AAUW student organization at Oklahoma State University proved their fundraising skills with their second annual philanthropic event, A Journey Around the World for Military and Women. Team held a fashion show, a talent show, and silent and live auctions. Three hundred people attended and models included the current Oklahoma Secretary of Military and Veteran's Affairs, Retired Gen. Rita Aragon.

Take action items Off the Shelf and Out of the Box

Embrace new ideas to recruit and retain members of AAUW.

Move the AAUW mission forward with independent projects on campus.

Voter registration on 53 C/U campuses in California by branch members resulted in more than 5000 new voters in the November 2012 state and national election. San Jose branch recruited Evergreen Valley College, San Jose City College, San Jose State University and Santa Clara University as C/U partners as a result of AAUW visibility on campus through the AAUW “It’s My Vote—I Will Be Heard” voter campaign.

Ukiah AAUW branch sponsored a Proposition Forum in collaboration with the Mendocino Women’s Political Coalition and the League of Women Voters. Ukiah Daily Journal editor moderated the forum at the Ukiah City Council Chambers. The local newspaper and radio station gave extensive coverage to the event. Approximately 100 people attended the event and 5 new members joined the Ukiah AAUW branch.

A ballot measure forum and voter registration events at Marymount California University were videod and shown on local cable channels that motivated Marymount California University to join as an C/U partner.

Branch members joined youth voter registration events at Foothill College, DeAnza College and Gavilan College with great success in registering new voters on campus. Two students from DeAnza College attended National Conference for College Women Student Leaders as a result of AAUW visibility on campus.

Fresno County members outreached to students at CSU Fresno by handing out Pay Day candy bars labeled “Not Fun Facts About Pay Equity.”

UC San Diego sent 21 women undergraduates to the Clinton Global Initiative University to learn about gender equity on a global basis and how to develop commitments to their community. Connect at www.cgiu.org

Equal Pay Day events at San Diego State University, CSU Long Beach and CSU Humboldt convened students, faculty, AAUW members and the public at a forum where a panel of noted speakers discussed what action to take to achieve pay equity for women.

AAUW San Diego County Interbranch Council hosts an annual Suffrage Parade celebrating the passage of the 19th Amendment (August 18, 1920) in Balboa Park. AAUW collaborates with the League of Women Voters, Older Women's League (OWL), National Organization for Women (NOW), YWCA, Women's Museum of San Diego, San Diego Historical Police Association Paddy Wagon Museum and college students to celebrate women winning the right to vote. Local television stations interview a few of the 200 or more participants in the parade and screen the event on local cable channels the same day as the event. The visibility of AAUW is tremendous.

AAUW Orange branch hosts a candlelight vigil to celebrate the passage of Roe v. Wade on January 22, 1973. Medical professionals, politicians, Planned Parenthood, college students and AAUW members plan the evening event with short speeches prior to the vigil.

Shannon Smith-Crowley, AAUW of California paid legislative advocate, updates state and branch leaders and C/U reps on bills that impact the mission of AAUW. Contact: legislativeadvocate@aauw-ca.org

Miss Representation, a film that focuses on women and girls in the media, was screened and discussed at Sierra College, California Maritime Academy, CSU Stanislaus, Oakland College, MiraCosta College and Mount St. Mary's College. The Invisible War, a film focused on sexual harassment and sexual assault in the military, has been shown and discussed on many C/U campuses. Tech Trek! Science & Math Camps for Girls will celebrate its 18th year as a premier one-week experience on the campus of 8 colleges and universities in California this year. More than 12,000 girls have attended the 10 camps located at UC Davis, UC Irvine, UC San Diego, UC Santa Barbara (Hypathia and Blackwell), CSU Fresno, Sonoma State, Stanford University (Curie and Hopper) and Whittier College.

The goals for Tech Trek Science and Math Camp for Girls were to encourage a diverse group of young women entering eighth grade to take math and science courses through high school, motivate students to attend college and inspire young women to consider careers in science, technology, engineering or math (STEM).

Tech Trek has become a tremendous educational success in California and Tech Trek Camps are now offered nationally. www.aauw-techtrek.org

Tech Trek alums were the speakers at a Tech Trek reunion and fundraiser planned by the Fremont branch at DeVry University attended by science faculty, parents and AAUW members. A video of the Tech Trekkers' speech is available at <http://youtu.be/KKgN4CQ200k>

A Math & Science Conference for 600 eighth grade girls has been held on the University of Redlands campus for the past 20 years and for 300 girls on the campus of Mt. San Jacinto College from Banning and Beaumont for the past 14 years. Redlands branch members highly recommend this educational activity to increase visibility of AAUW's mission on campus.

Citrus College is the venue of an annual STEM Conference for eighth grade girls. Citrus College should be recruited as an AAUW C/U partner member.

Laguna Beach AAUW members mentor re-entry college women on local campuses.

Morgan Hill AAUW organizes an all-day Girls Engaged in Math and Science (GEMS) workshops on the Canada College campus.

Santa Clara University was the site of a gender discrimination in the workplace discussion lead by AAUW San Jose members.

Sonoma State was the venue for a panel discussion on women of achievement balance demands of work and home as presented by the Sonoma AAUW members.

Turlock branch members lead two programs on the campus of CSU Stanislaus. One program is Financial Awareness for Adults and the other is a math & science program for girls in grades 6-12.

Cerro Coso College is the site of Strength Finders, an intensive program offered by the China Lake-Ridgecrest AAUW members, to women students who need help to hone their leadership skills and to determine career skills required in specific jobs.

Roseville-South Placer members planned a grand thank you reception at Sierra College to show appreciation to the college president, dean of students and e-students for their commitment to $tart $mart, Elect Her: Campus Women Win, scholar recipients and voter registration campaigns on their campus.

Inviting C/U Chancellors, Presidents and Provosts to speak at branch events is an opportunity to get the inside view of what is happening on college and university campuses. It is also an opportunity to ask about gender equity, pay equity, Title IX compliance, strategies to combat sexual assault on campus and other issues of concern to your AAUW branch members.

Create a Grad Fest as a scholarship campaign at your local campus to raise awareness among students that your branch offers scholarships. Ontario-Upland-Rancho branch members distributed scholarship announcement flyers on the campus of Chaffey College which resulted in a high rate of applicants interviewed and scholarships awarded.

Monterey Peninsula branch awarded scholarships from a pool of 52 applicants to 4 women students at CSU Monterey Bay. Many of the applicants are the first in their family to attend college.

Give a Grad a Gift is a good way to invite scholars and students to become an AAUW member. Branch members can plan a graduation party for a C/U department such as Women's Studies or Biochemistry Department and give a one-year free AAUW membership to all women and men who graduate in a field of study. La Mesa-El Cajon branch presented Give a Grad a Gift to all graduates in the Women's Center at a party on campus of the University of San Diego one night prior to graduation.

Updated January 2016

AAUW conducts groundbreaking research on issues related to gender equity in education and the workplace. The published research influences the national discussion on topics such as the pay gap between women and men, sexual harassment in schools and on college campuses, and the under representation of women in science and engineering. AAUW research serves as a catalyst for action through new and traditional media, targeted outreach to policymakers, and through member efforts.

Samsung hosted a live panel discussion in mid winter 2015 on the importance of women in the workplace in the STEM fields when AAUW launched the newly published research Solving the Equation. Catherine Hill and Christianne Corbett, authors of the research, led a lively discussion which may be viewed on AAUW website.

Invite the author of one of the reports to speak at your local campus. Holly Kearn presented her research findings from Crossing the Line; Sexual Harassment in School to students and faculty at UC Irvine and Cal Lutheran University. Holly spoke about how to stop street harassment and how to make public spaces safe and welcoming for women.

Graduating to a Pay Gap was the focus on the campus of UC Merced at a Webcast party attended by faculty, students, AAUW members and friends. AAUW staff invited C/U partners to a live panel discussion of the latest research publication via Webcast. UC Merced was the only C/U partner campus in California to accept the invitation.

Lisa Maatz, AAUW Vice President of Governmental Relations, presented federal legislative updates to the faculty, students and AAUW members at Claremont McKenna College, Cal Lutheran University and San Diego County Interbranch Council. Lisa updated faculty, students and AAUW members at San Jose State University on legislative issues in March 2014. Lisa stressed the importance of legislative briefs as a valuable resource for faculty and students when researching topics of pay and gender equity, civil rights and Title IX.

WHAT WE DO

LAF Campus Outreach Program Grant

Few college students are prepared for the reality of unfair pay, sexual harassment and assault, pregnancy discrimination, or Title IX violations, yet these issues affect many young people on campus or later in the workplace. AAUW members can apply for up to $750 in funding to host or co-host an event to educate students about these topics.

Requests are accepted on a rolling basis.

Please note: We are no longer accepting LAF Campus Outreach Program Grant applications for start smart trainings.

Apply

Send the Funding Request Form to laf@aauw.org

AAUW Branches and College Campuses Forge Relationships

The Campus Outreach Program Grant is a wonderful opportunity for AAUW branches to create relationships with local campuses. In 2012, the AAUW Wheaton-Glen Ellyn (IL) Branch used an LAF Campus Outreach Grant to participate in a fair focused on sexual abuse awareness at the College of DuPage. AAUW member Sue Hermann said:

"The fair was a big success ... Attendees took information about how to join AAUW and apply for AAUW local and national scholarships. As a result of our participation, the College of DuPage has agreed to sponsor an information night next year, which our branch will host, titled Title IX Compliance: How the College of DuPage Responds to Sexual Harassment and Violence on Campus."

Looking for inspiration for your on-campus event?

Here's how four AAUW branches used their Campus Outreach Grants.

Host a Play about Local Women's Lives

AAUW Goshen (IN) Branch and Goshen College

The Goshen branch sponsored a performance of The Michiana Monologues with Goshen College to help educate and enlighten people about the challenges women face and to empower all people to end violence against women. The Michiana Monologues tell the stories of local women. Before the performance, writing workshops were held to help women write about their lives. Those stories, submitted anonymously, were then performed by actors. The play increased awareness about violence against women and helped draw attention to organizations that work to end gender violence.

Invite an Advocate to Dinner

AAUW Redlands (CA) Branch and the University of Redlands

The Redlands branch wanted to help educate young women about the wage gap. They decided to co-host a dinner at the University of Redlands with Lilly Ledbetter, a trailblazer for equal pay and the namesake of the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act. She spoke to students and community members about workplace gender equality and women's roles in the workforce. The branch sought to inspire young women by sharing Ledbetter's tenacious battle to make things right for herself and other women.

Throw a Party to Celebrate Title IX

AAUW Boise Area (ID) Branch and Boise State University

The Boise Area branch hosted a Thank You, Title IX event to celebrate Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits gender discrimination in education. The event coincided with a women's basketball game at Boise State University and included current and former collegiate and high school athletes. The event was designed to educate women athletes and community members about the importance of Title IX. AAUW branch members created Title IX displays, played a Title IX public service announcement, and distributed information about the landmark law and about AAUW.

Host an Event to Raise Awareness about Campus Sexual Assault

AAUW Alexandria-Pineville (LA) Branch, AAUW of Louisiana, Louisiana Student Advisory Council, and Louisiana State University

GLOSSARY OF COMMONLY USED TERMS

C/U partner member: An institution that is a dues-paying AAUW college/university partner member

C/U rep(resentative): The designated, official contact person for AAUW on a partner member campus, who serves as a liaison between AAUW and the faculty, students, and staff of a school. Each partner member may have two campus reps, and each of them receives a free AAUW national membership.

E-SAFs receive information via electronic notification and do not have AAUW voting privileges. Students are eligible to be E-SAFs as long as they are undergraduates and their institution retains its membership. The students also get a free membership for their first year out of college. Find more information on the E-SAFs web page.

Student affiliate: An undergraduate on any C/U campus. The student may be affiliated with the national organization or a local branch. Annual dues are $17. They have access to all AAUW information, online and in print.
